DEDICATION

their thought, time and ende aver for our development, who have rejoiced in our achievements and counselled us in times of perplexity, and who have, because of their love and interest in us, made sacrifices that we might enjoy the advantages of an education, to these, our parents we dedicate this, the 1929 volume of the Momence Community High School.

The Foreword

The 1929 volume of the Monesse has been published by the Junior Class. Time and thought have been devoted to make it a real success. The Monesse 1929 Staff have tried to include one and all in its contents and hope that it will be considered in the true spirit of M. C. H. S. In this volume the school's activities are briefly outlined, and it is a partial record of the 1928-29 school year.

You will find in this book our treasure chest, enshrining the precious gems of our hopes, ambitions and aspirations, preserving them here in lasting beauty and permanence.

We have dedicated this book to our parents. They have been interested in our school work and they have hopes for our progress and advancement. We hope that our efforts will meet with their approval.

The Faculty

This the school year of '28 and '29, And my friends if you'll only listen, I shall read a little rhyme, For as yet I have not been smitten By the germ of poetry, So of course my feeble efforts Will not lead you far astray.

This school year has its message,
Frolic, fun and study too;
And the ursets that do happen
With the right and good and true
All belong to high school training,
Which sometimes brings us sorrows few;
But more often brings us sunshine,
Hope and love and strength anew.

This school year has brought us students, Many Freshies, green as grass; And some others who are seeking The best way to surely pass. But the fate of every classman Rests in hands, the shining lights, Who we call the high school teachers 'Cause they are so keen and bright.

So my rhyme will take each teacher, Man and lady, one by one; And reveal the thoughts of searchers Who've been seeking for some fun. Smile my friends at what I'm reading If it strikes a humorous vein, For on Monday our dear teachers Will again hold every rein.

Science, band and senior home room Are in charge of P. T. L., He's a daddy and a teacher, And mixes dope that has a smell. With a crayfish and some music He can sail the double ship; Without mentioning evolution Or improving penmanship.

Manual arts are in the basement,
Knots and loose nuts, plenty too
Uf drawing, sawing, hammering, carving
For a glue pot's boiling stew.
H. L. L. is the attendant,
He dishes out the tools and wood;
And steers each "Johnny" in his project
So every fact be understood.

"I cannot live on faith alone."-Martin Unruh

H. N. H. the farmer maker
Rules in the basement of our school.
He is said to be an undertaker
Of some experiments, and as a rule
He drives from his country home to town
But now and then his car breaks down,
So he cheerfully "hoofs it" without a frown.

M. L. M. is coach and teacher, He's the only single man in school, Apparently the sex that's weaker Has not disturbed his poise or rule. He can coach with vim and vigor; In victory or in defeat, He emphasizes fundamentals As basic for athletic feats.

L. P. C. has English classes
In the west room of our school.
Sometimes she'll argue with lads and lassies
On the meaning of some rule.
Her latest hobbie is mechanics,
She knows the price of oil and gas,
As well as some of Chevvie's antics
That are always sure to come to pass.

Our history teacher is R. N. A new one to us all, With oral speech or fountain pen The facts she can recall, From Hellespont to Babylon, Each detail and each date, Is emphasized because the past To present must relate.

The Freshies study Algebra,
The Sophomores Geometry,
Both classes must learn formula
As emphasized by one L. B.
Of late she's moved into our town,
And lives close by our schools;
And so more time to nail us down
To learn those pesky rules.

E. M. G. is a new product
She has the Latin-French combine.
The written lessons she does audit
And gives them back for a refine.
She's strong on "amo" the youngsters say,
Another model, she will not use it;
So her secret thoughts must run that way,
For otherwise it would be "fuit."

Skyward indeed is A. M. S.

She is as near the heavens as she can be,
She cooks and sews we must confess,
Both storming and praising to some degree.
Her two old pals have gone away.
But she has already adopted another;
And possibly on some bright day
She'll take somebody's only brother.

Dollars and cents and debit too; Also credit and invoice and date Are taught by one R. W., Who checks the sheets and seals our fate. She is little and quiet and wears a blouse When she leads the girls in the gym class; But they say she's afraid of a little mouse When in her room it tries to pass.

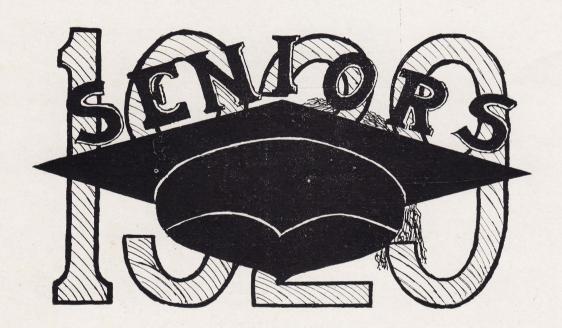

Our music teacher is C. M.
She teaches mostly in the grades,
But for two periods and now and then
She drills us on some music shades.
She knows the weather in our town
And looks above most everyone;
Her eyes are farther from the ground,
And so she has her special fun.

And so I come to the end of my rhyme, I have mentioned all but old I. M., He would hope to be spared this time, So I'm going to close by saying Amen.

ATHLETICS

Football

Captains Buckner, Canavan, Hurd, Prairie

Every member of the 1927 eleven graduated in June, 1928. Consequently, Coach Moore was confronted with the problem of building a new line as well as a new backfield. There was really no experienced player to be elected captain. It was necessary to test the team and determine which one could be entrusted with leading the team in the game. Therefore, Coach Moore appointed the captain prior to each game. One of the above four was appointed before each game. As they all proved to be capable players, each one had the opportunity to lead the eleven.

Captains Lawrence, Langhorst, Grabow
Every member of the 1927-28 varsity basketball team graduated in June, 1928. Coach Moore had to develope a new team. No captain was elected prior to the opening of the season. It was, therefore, necessary to appoint a captain prior to each game. This honor came to both Lawrence and Langhorst. One of them would serve as captain in one game and the other would act in the following game. Grabow served as captain of the lightweight team during the entire season.

THE GIRLS' GYMNASIUM CLASS

More than thirty girls belong to the Girls' Gymnasium Class. The class has met every Friday afternoon from four to six. Miss Westfall has been in charge, and the work has consisted of calesthenics, basketball and other forms of physicial exercise. The work of each individual member was recognized through a merit system which is as follows:

Ice skating, one hour
Roller Skating, one hour	1
Hiking, one mile
Horse Back Riding, one hour	1
Bicycle Riding, two miles	1
Not Eating Candy, one week	1
Drinking 4 glasses water a day for 1 week	1
No Powdering in school, one week	1
Averaging 8 hours sleep for one week	1
Attending basketball practice each week
Wearing basketball suits each practice	2
Helping each day at home one week	.1
Be punctual at school each day, for one week	1
Attend school each day, for one week
All school grades on card 80 or above	2

A REVIEW OF THE SEASON

The Football season was a success when you consider the fact that Coach Moore lost every member of last year's team through graduation. He had to build an entirely new team and it consisted of Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior boys. While not as many games were won as some people would prefer, the low scores to which the inexperienced players held their opponents indicates that M. C. H. S. has good material for the future. The last game on the schedule, the game with the Onarga Township High School, was not played. Unfavorable weather was the direct cause of this game being canceled. With practically the same team intact for next year, the outlook is very encouraging and we can look forward to a successful football season.

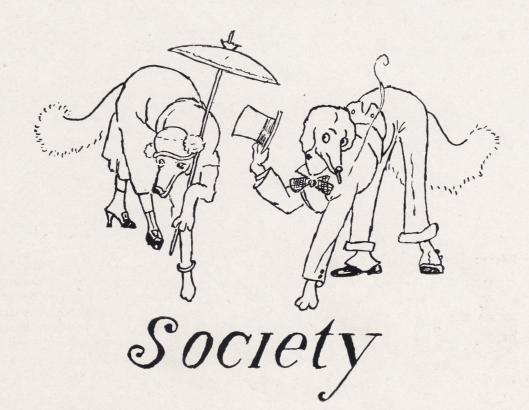

COACH MOORE

Coach Moore came to M. C. H. S. four years ago. He had spent two years as a coach in a small Iowa high school and had made an enviable record. He is a graduate of Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, and has attended several coaching schools during the summer sessions. He emphasizes fundamentals in both football and basketball and demands that all boys be punctual and regular for practice. His good work as a coach has had a marked influence in shaping the athletic spirit and athletic policy of the school.

"Now, what's so funny?"-Mr. Moore.

My Dear Diary:

Our first social event of the year took place this afternoon. It was sponsored by the most active, energetic and alert group in M. C. H. S. Do you know who they are? Well—they are known as the Girls' Glee Club.

To further interest the girls in the Glee Club, they had a weiner roast at Island Park. As they had not planned on having it until this morning, some of the girls had made previous arrangements for after school, but for a peppy bunch of girls like the Glee Club rossesses, they did not need much notice in order to come. They put aside all other arrangements and made their way to the Island. The next hour was spent in playing peppy games which gave them all a ravenous appetite. There were plenty of eats and it wasn't long until they had all disappeared. Then as it was almost 6:30 o'clock and everyone was filled to the brim, the girls wandered in various directions to their homes.

Miss McNeil and our guest, Miss Westfall, are greatly responsible for the exceedingly good time had by all the girls on such short notice.

That's all for tonight, Diary.

Dear Diary:

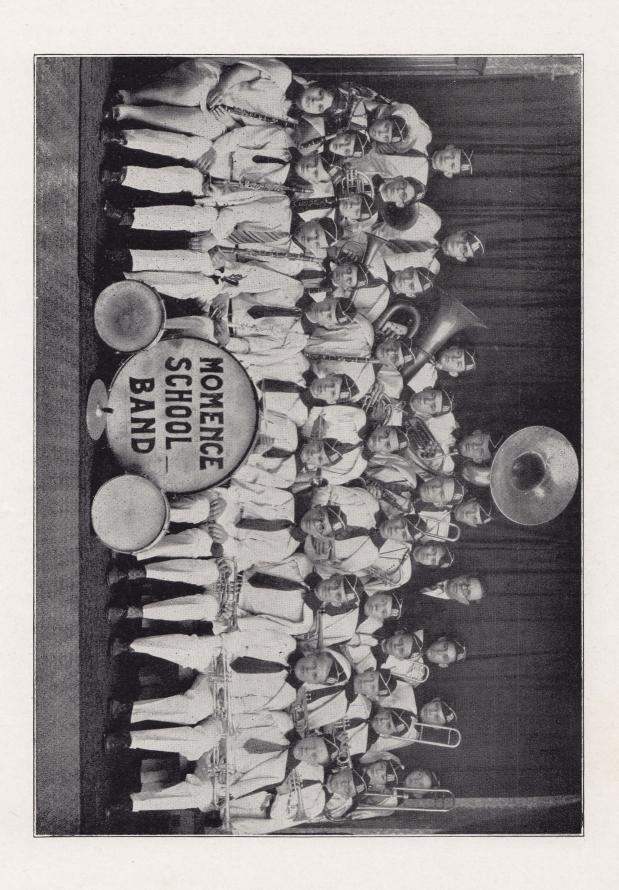

Well—it has come and gone! What? The Year Book Banquet which is the only all school affair of which we can boast. It was a howling success this year, but why shouldn't it be after such a prosperous campaign? Our leaders this year were Henry Halpin and Leota Mansberger on the White Side and LeRoy Grabow and Margaret Krueger on the Red Side. With the captains in the best of spirits, the contest started off with a bang! It was a close contest all the way along, but the Reds won out in the end. The banquet is given by the losing side each year.

At six thirty o'clock, sharp, the girls in their prettiest dresses and the boys in their best, were assembled around the tastefully decorated tables in the Woodman hall. The Royal Neighbors served a very good dinner consisting of salad, cream chicken, mashed potatoes, scalloped corn, parker house rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee. Following the dinner there was a series of toasts given by the students and teachers. Each one was eleverly introduced by the toastmaster, Andrew Kelson. Following the toasts there were four musical selections given by students and Miss McNeil led us in community singing. The program in detail was as follows:

The Winning Lady	Henry Halpin
The Winning Man	Leota Mansberger
The Losing Lady	LeRoy Grabow
The Losing Man	Margaret Kiueger
The Monesse '29	Veda West
Coinage of Silver and Gold
Our Line	Austin Canavan
Our Backfield	_ Sidney Buckner
Our Season	Virgil Prairie
The Lightweights	Harold Cromwell
The Heavyweights
Our Gym Class	Lois Stetson
Our Glee Club	Leila Gilkison
Our Band	John Illum
The Seniors	_ William Hanson
The Juniors
The Sophomores
The Freshmen	Ruth Fross
Six Miles North	Zelma Braatz
Our Teachers
"Short Funny Tails," by the Teachers.
Xylophone Solo	Whilma Deliere
Cornet Solo	Ralph Hertz
Vocal Solo
Hawaiian Music-Mildred Kile, Lyeth
Tabler.

Thus the program ended and we departed for home, sorry that it was all over for one more year. Goodnight.

"ALAWYS" February 20, 1929

Dear Diary:

Tonight the dignified Seniors left their solemn faces and spectacles at home and all gathered at Conrad's Recreation Rooms for a little diversion from the busy, daily routine of study to which they are accustomed. Even William Hanson and Freddie Jensen forgot to be serious for a couple of hours and joked and smiled with the rest of their fellow students. Various games, that were appropriate for sophisticated Seniors, were played and a lovely lunch was served.

"I don't like a man unless he's from Sweden."—Audrey Bishir

Upon leaving they all declared they hadn't had as joyful a time since they had taken it upon themselves to become The Seniors of M. C. H. S. and to set an example for the lower classmen. Don't you think it's nice, Diary, for the overburdened Seniors to have a gay time like this once a year?

It's late now so I must retire.

Hi! Diary:

The Juniors had their annual party tonight at the usual place. There were over fifty Juniors there. Can you imagine such a large class coming from M. C. H. S. We had such a good time playing games, singing school songs and popular metodies and dancing. The refreshment committee surely did their duty in serving a palatable lunch to 'top off' the evening.

Have you ever heard, in the history of M. C. H. S. of a class so large as this one and having such a gloriously good time? I'll leave that for you to think about for a while, Diary, while I get some sleep.

March 21, 1929

Good eevning, Diary:

I'm all tired out! No, I didn't go with the Gym Class on their hike to the city on the north of us today after school, but Audrey has just finished telling me about it and she told it so realistically that most of the time I thought I was with them which of course gave me this tired feeling.

The notices on the blackboards today said the girls were going on a hike—but come to find out—some skated and some rode part way and they all rode back so I don't think it could be properly called a hike, do you? I guess they got plenty of exercise though because this village to the north of us is the whole sum of six miles. No wonder they took their skates and "hooked" rides. I would too! This isn't to be their last hike so you will probably hear more about the Gym Class later on. They have proven themselves to be up and coming and there is nothing lazy about them. Goodnight, Diary.

My Dear Diary:

Yes, the Sophomores had a party this evening. Henry Muldoon Halpin, the president of the class, was in charge of affairs. It was rumored that some of them wore dress suits—that is their Suncay dress suits. Beans Pearson played the violin and Daddy Cromwell sang a solo in B Flat or maybe it was flat. All had a good time looking at each other. They departed for home at nine-thirty o'clock.

PAGES PROGRESS

Just three years ago, sixty nine pages came to the castle of Momence. We gathered from the courts of Pembroke, Grant Park, Exline, Talmadge and St. George. We were to serve under the gallant Sir Munson and his attendants. It was hard for us to get acquainted for it seemed as though we always did the wrong thing.

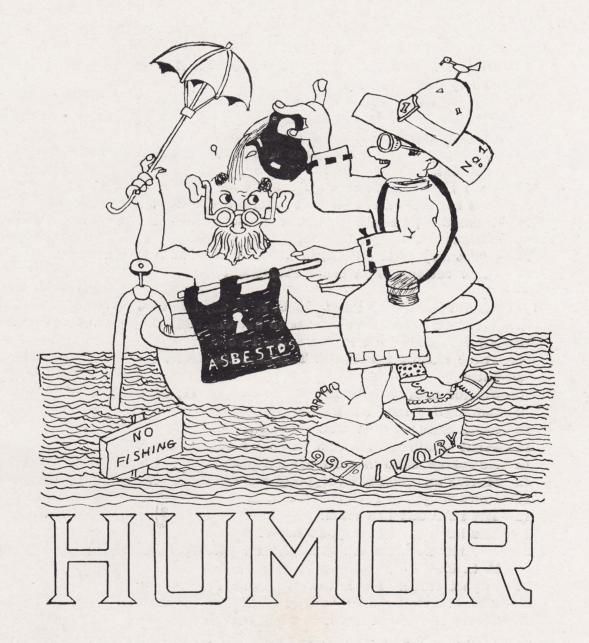

We pages were given a sword and shield when we entered the castle of Momence. Since then we have had many uses for our trusty weapons, and, although you may not believe it, I am using my sword as I write this.

There was much work for a page to do at the Castle of Momence. We had many Ogres to conquer. Some of these were: "Duke Latin" who had kidnapped the most beautiful girl in the country around the castle; "Sir Algebra" and "Sir Geometry" who destroyed the poor, and, if they were strong enough made them slaves; "King English" the ruler of a Kingdom of Evils; and "Baron Civics" who destroyed many cities which had done neither him nor his people any wrong.

These Ogres, who lived in the highly civilized parts of the world, were very difficult to conquer, unless one could use his sword and shield skillfully. We were taught how to battle these dreadful creatures by the instructors at our castle. Before a page might become a squire he had to overcome them. Jousts were held at the close of every six weeks at the castle of Momence. These contests occurred just before the reports of our work were sent to our parents. This was a sad day for some, but if one had been an obedient page and had obeyed his masters, he had nothing to fear. On that day "Duke Latin," "King English" "Baron Civics." "Sir Algebra," or "Sir Geometry" battled with the pages.

Our life at the castle of Momence was a ladder. Each day we gained a step or lost a step as we ourselves chose to do. But if we are to reach the goal in our last year as Pages, we will be the Knights of the castle of Momence, and for that reason we we all give forth our very best efforts.

APRIL:—

1—The end of the Calendar. All Fools Day.

Jokes

Mr. Cromwell: "Harold, what does this 60 mean on your report card?" Harold: "That's the temperature of the room, Father."

Toad: "Haven't I always treated you like one of the family?" Nelsen: "Yes, and I'm not going to stand it any longer."

Teacher: "Mushroons always grow in damp places."

A Freshman: "That's why they look like umbrellas, aint it?"

Mr. Hungerford: "If a farmer should raise 250 bushels of corn in dry weather what can he raise in wet weather?"

William Pearson: "An umbrella."

Virgil Prairie: "The Seniors aren't what they used to be; are they?" Maude Shronts: "No, my dear boy, they were Juniors last year."

FRESHMAN LAMENT

I'd like to be a Senior
And with the Seniors stand,
A fountain pen behind my ear,
A notebook in my hand.
I would not be a president,
'Tis hard to be a king,
I would not be an emperor
For all that wealth would bring
I would not be an angel,
For angels have to sing,
I'd rather be a Senior
And never do a thing,

Mr. Smith: "Mr. Austin, what business are you thinking of having your son enter?"

Mr. Austin: "Well judging from the hours he keeps, I think he is a natural born milk man."

Mr. Liljedahl: (In Zoology) "Of what use are our lips to us?" Orson B.: "Why you shut them so stuff won't fall out."

Sid acting as Zoology teacher: "Now, class, if you want to know anything about chimpanzees you will have to watch me."

LeRoy: "Gee, I wish I had a girl."

Wilmont: "Gee, so do I."

A pretty young goddess came along.

LeRoy: "You take her." Wilmont: "You take her."

After the Lyceum number we heard Andy Kelson singing:

"I dreamed my life was one
Cast out on a bounding billow,
And I hugged in glee my pillow—
Till Ma came up with a willow,
And then up rose the sun." (Son)

Helen W.: "Just listen to this. It says here in the paper that it takes more than five hundred elephants a year to make our piano keys."

Gertrude B: "Jimminy Crickets! Aint is just wonderful what some animals can be trained to do?"

Mr. Hungerford: "Arnold, if you had a farm, what would you raise on it?" Arnold Dennison: "I'd raise Cain!"

PINEAPPLE FLIP BY MISS STONE

Hold the pineapple in the palm of the right hand. Give your wrist a quick jerk. If you are dexterous, you should make the pineapple flip. Of course you must be dexterous.

The girl I hate is Maurina Miller, She said she knew what we had in our cellar. (Potatoes!!!)

Shiek Eriksen: "What would you advise me to read after graduation?" Mr. Munson: "The 'Help Wanted' column."

Viva McCarty: "Gee, Miss Coontz, I wish Edgar Allan Poe had been born in Maine."

Miss Coontz: "Why?"

Viva McCarty: "Because I just said he was, on my examination paper."

Zelma B.: "Is Lillian Illum very sentimental?"

Maxine T.: "Very, She even weeps over her old exam papers."

I stood upon the staircase,
I looked down the hall,
I saw a lot of green stuff
Standing by the wall.
I thought it must be fernery,
But took another glance,
When lo! unto my horror,
It was the Freshman Class.

Loree Langman: "Say, Miss Northrup, the Bible says women smoked cigarettes."

Miss Northrup: "I think you are mistaken, Loree."

Loree Langman: "No, really, here it is—it says 'and Rachel lighted off the camel."

Mr. Moore says that the value of a kiss is regulated by the law of supply and demand. Perhaps, he knows."

Blood is thicker than water, but neither can touch the Momence postoffice ink A woodpecker lit on a Sophomore's head
And settled down to drill,
He bored away for half an hour,
And then he broke his bill.

Mack Shrontz: "Who do you consider the best boxer in our city?" Kid Hall: "The undertaker."

Paul Thyfault: "Aw, I can't get these old Algebra problems."
Miss Brown: "Use your brain, what is your head for?"
Paul Thyfault: "My head? Oh, I guess its just a big knot to keep my spinal cord from unraveling."

Miss Stone (Giving notes to Domestic Science Class:)
Soap is good for washing hands.
If matches are put into biscuits before baking, they will be ruch lighter.
When paring potatoes always use the sharp edge of the knife.
When baking bread, a pinch or two of flour will greatly improve the flavor.
When window blinds wear out, replace them with new ones.

Martin Unruh: (Seeing a good looking girl in the movies:) "Boy I would like to play postoffice with her."

Clara Jensen: "Say, Jiggy, I just saw a horse with a wooden leg."

Jiggy L.: "Where?"

Clara Jensen: "On the merry-go-round."

John Illum: "The doctor told me that if I didn't stop smoking, I would be half witted."

Gilbert Munden: "Well, why didn't you stop?"

Sh!!! Miss McNeil tells us that every once in a while she steals up to ner room and in private enjoys a little chew of gum.

Football Opponent: "Say could you tell me how to get out to the fcotball field?"

M. C. H. S. student: "Have you a car?"

Opponent: "No."

M. C. H. S. student: "Then guess you will have to walk."

Margaret Krueger: "Velma, why do you put powder on your nose?"

Velma: "To make me pretty, dear."

Margaret Krueger: "Then why doesn't it?"

MOMENCE TO BE REPRESENTED IN OLYMPIC GAMES

If you were to saunter out to the new athletic filed any time these days, you would see Coach Moore engaged in heavy work. He is a remarkable coach, and it is rumored he exerts a very good influence over his athletes. Just now he is training Henry Halpin so that he may compete in the Olympic Games this year. Henry expects to win the peanut race.

Miss Coontz: "A boy in the parlor—"

Lois Stetson: "Is worth two in the kitchen."

Leo Beaupre bought a ticket to a lecture called "Fools." On the ticket it said, "Admit One."

Now I lay me down to rest,
For tomorrow I have a test,
If I die before I wake
Then tomorrow no test I'll take.
I only kissed her on the cheek,
It seemed a simple frolic,
But I was sick in bed a week,
They called it painter's colic.
Timid little Freshies,
Trying hard to burn
Never mind the fire drill
You're too green to burn.

SOME DEFINITIONS OF A KISS

A kiss is a peculiar proposition.

Of no use to one, yet absolutely bliss to two.

The small boy gets it for nothing—

The young man has to steal it—

The old man has to buy it—

The baby's right,

The lover's delight,

The hyprocite's mask—

To a young girl—Faith,

To a married woman—Hope,

To an old maid—Charity.

Henry Jackson: "I was shipwrecked once and lived a week on a can of sar-dines."

Grace Mills: "You didn't have much to move about did you?"

Gilbert Lawrence: "What makes Veda so talkative?"
Edward Fross: "I think she was vaccinated with a phonograph needle."

Leonard Clark—"Say, Vivian, give me the name of a star that has a tail." Vivian Astle: "Rin Tin Tin."

Doris Sherwood: "Gosh! Nine o'clock. I should have been here fifteen minutes ago. I'll go up to the office and get a permit to class."

Doris: "Sorry I'm late, Mr. Munson."

Mr. Munson: "Heart broken, I suppose."

Doris: "I was outside waiting to come in, but-"

Mr. Munson: "But what?"

Doris: "You were working so hard I hated to butt in."

Teacher: "Who was the Black Prince?" Student: "The son of Old King Cole."

Dorothy Rogers: "These onions seem to have rather a fragrant odor." Lady of the house: "Why, Dorothy, you are frying my tulip bulbs."

"At last I have written something for the Love Story Magazine that has been accepted."

"What is it?"

"A check for a year's subscription."

There is no redress for the man with one suit of clothes—Edwin Getting.

"Here's where I double my salary," remarked Mr. Liberty as he folded his his check.

Ancil Tremroe at the fruit store looking at a cocoanut: "Gee! Mama, look at the big potato with whiskers."

Father: "How did you like it in church?"

Mildred C: "Oh, it was lovely. A man passed me a basket of money and I said,
'No, thank you.'"

"Hello, Richard. I thought you were sending me a chicken for Sunday dinner" Richard Johnson: "So was I, Mr. Munson, but it got better."

Mr. Moore: "Are you and your wife getting along?" Mr. Liberty: "Yes, in years."

It was dusk as Miss Coontz pulled into a certain oil station. "I want a quart of red oil, please."
The boss: "Red oil?"
Miss Coontz: "Certainly. My tail light has gone out."

He: "Oh, she's not as old as all that."

Ha: "Old? Why, that woman remembers the Big Dipper when it was just a drinking cup."

Dorothy Steward: "I believe this school is haunted."

Dick Alexander: "Why?"

Dorothy: "The Prof. is always talking about the school spirit."

Andy Kelson: "I hear you made the football team." Casey Canavan: "Oh, the other boys helped a little."

Billy Ben: "Mister Policeman, do you have men in jail what can open safes?"

Policeman: "Sometimes."

Billy Ben: "Can they open big solid steel safes?"

Policeman: "Unfortunately they seem able to open them."

Billy Ben: "Can they open great big genuine safes like they have in banks?"

Policeman: "Yes, yes, my boy."

Billy Ber: "Well, the next time you get a real good one, will you let him work on my dime bank? I lost the key."

Mr. Virgil "Bull" Prairie self admitted big game hunter, lost a bit of caste today after telling the gang stories about tracking down elephants, lions and tigers and what not. He had to call on his brother Pete to help him find a collar button he had lost.

George Mills: "Why is an hour glass small in the middle?"

Dorothy Gray: "Well, why is it?"

George Mills: "It's just a waste of time."

A Simile: As handy as a trombone player in a telephone booth.

Miss McNeil: "The Glee Club will now sing "Together."

A Listener: "It's about time."

Mr. Liljedahl: "My baby is always crying for its mother." A Friend: "After looking at its father, I don't wonder."

They confused Luke Cantway's waist measurement with his height.

"They tell me you were in Venice recently."

"Oh, ves."

. Trade Sign

"Did you see the gondolas?"

"Yes, I had dinner with them."

Sir Fred Jensen: "Thou art the sunshine of my soul. Thou drivest away the murky clouds of despair. Thou wilt always reign in my heart. My love for thee will never grow cold. Wilt thou—?"

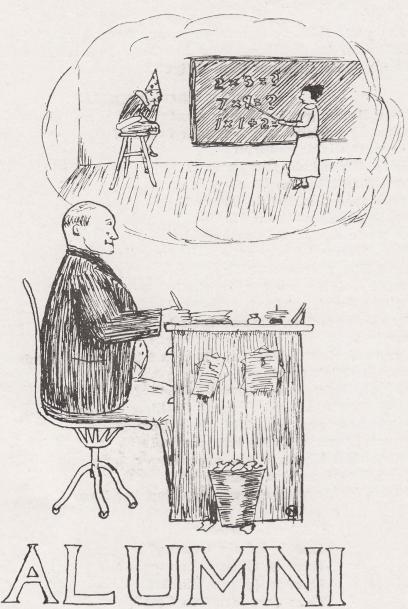

Jean B: "Say, what is this, a proposal or a weather report?"

A handkerchief used by William Penn has been found. It will be placed in a museum and labelled: "The Original Pen—Wiper."

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Zelma Braatz getting below ninety? Esther Brouillette with her hair bobbed? Margaret Cloidt smiling? Lillian Illum bold and daring? Ivan Rice being on time? May Royce flunking in Exams? Martin Unruh without his Ford? Lawrence Austin thin and meek? Alice Eilers with a prepared History lesson? Grace Eilers six feet tall? Lucille Golding making a noise? Violette Jarvis without a temper? Clara Jensen, fair, fat and forty? Dennis Lattz with his head shaved? Vernon Park and Vaughn Poppe without their flaming hair? Irene Bydalek talking? Mildred Christensen without a Daddy? Irene Farmer a Mack Sennett Bathing Beauty? Dorris Langman not riding in a Dodge? Francis Storer with his hair combed? John Auld without a fake excuse? Glenn Bennison in a dress suit? Martha Fishir with a dress covering her knees?

Is Alberta Bright?
What is Edwin Getting?
When is Gilbert Lawrence?
When is Jeanne Blanke?
When does Frances Cart?
When is Ruth Farr?
When is Veda West?
When will Varnum Parish?
What does Agnes Advocate?
Where does Clifford Hunte?
When is Gertrude Brown?
When does Blanche Rowe?
How does William Snapp?
Who does Agnes Usher?
Is Beatrice Hardy?
